

ACADEMIC CONTINUITY PLAN

WHAT TO EXPECT FOR SPRING 2021

FIU's top priority is your safety and the wellbeing of our community. Following that, it's your education. From changes to physical spaces on campus to offering different ways for you to take classes safely, we're doing everything we can to responsibly serve you and our community in the Spring 2021 semester.

THE FOUR WAYS

THE FIRST WAY

IN-PERSON

Meet on campus and have a scheduled meeting pattern in a classroom.

THE SECOND WAY

HYBRID COURSES

Has an on campus experience with physical distancing, in conjunction with virtual class meetings and course work.

THE THIRD WAY

REMOTE

Temporary digital alternative which means students and professors meet online during scheduled days and times. There is no distance learning fee for taking a remote class.

THE FOURTH WAY

FULLY ONLINE

Taught in Canvas. Activities/assignments are designed to take place virtually and have deadlines and due dates. Please note that there is a distance learning fee associated with fully online classes.

TIPS FOR OFFBEAT TIMES

1. Find out if your class has a scheduled time and place.
2. Get to know the course syllabus.
3. Things change. Communicate with your professor for clarity.
4. Make a study plan. Keep it flexible.
5. Reach out. We've got you covered with plenty of resources.
